The territorial marketing division's plan to create a permanent working fund for the marketing of the pineapples grown by the homesteaders on Oahu which are not contracted for by the canneries is to be fully explained to the growers at a series of meetings to be held in those sections of this island where the fruit is grown by the small farmers.

The plan is to tax each crate of pineapples marketed through the division three or five cents, this money to go into a fund to cover the financial end of the marketing.

A meeting already has been held with the homesteaders at Aiea. According to A. T. Longley, superintendent of the division, they have offered to cooperate in every way. Within a short time the division will again meet with them and explain the working fund project. The division will have a meeting with the Palolo and Wahiawa growers Sunday. A meeting also will be arranged with the Waimanalo and Heaia growers.

The establishment of the fund will be one step toward completing the division's plans for adequately marketing the small farmers' fruit. The last, and probably final, step will be the sending of a man to Chicago to establish an eastern market for the fruit.

W. A. Anderson, formerly manager of the Nahuiku Rubber Company, has been employed by the division as its agent in San Francisco. He will be in work July 1, and will be authorized to employ such assistance as he deems necessary. While the territorial fund for such work is only $2000 a month, funds for additional assistance on the coast will be derived from the division's 10 per cent commission on fruit sales.

As a starter, the division yesterday shipped 10 tons of fresh pine to San Francisco in the Wilhelmina. Today four tons went in the Ventura. The fruit was grown by small farmers on Oahu.

"In its new work the division is meeting with cooperation and assistance from all sides," says Mr. Longley. "Yesterday a prominent local Japanese called and offered to erect a $1000 packing shed at Wahiawa for the use of the small farmers there, irrespective of nationality. Should the offer be accepted, as it probably will be, the division will pay the owner a rental for the building and provide this with other expenses.

"The financing of the proposition is in the hands of the producers themselves. At the meetings which the division is planning with the small farmers their attention will be called to the necessity of raising funds for sending a man to Chicago to establish an eastern marketing headquarters."

Mr. Longley says that the division will do a lot of preliminary work. It will find out how many of the growers have contracts for their fruit, how many pines they are planting, and when the fruit will be ripe. A record will be kept of how many pines each grower expects to ship, and how many he has shipped to date.

A delegation of Alea homesteaders called on Mr. Longley yesterday with the statement that they wished publicity to reach the Japanese. Gibb of the Honolulu Plantation Company for the services offered them in the way of a siding on the plantation railway, for their fruit and the free switching of cars.

MAY REVOKE ALL EXTENSIONS OF TOUR FOR OAHU

Maj.-Gen. Carter So Recommends to War Department on Receipt of 3-Year Order

ATTITUDE TOWARD HAWAII UNDERGOES BIG CHANGE

Service Here Preferred to Time in Philippines, at Canal Zone or Duty on Mexican Border

Officers of the Hawaiian Department who are planning to stay on Oahu an additional year over the prescribed three-year tour, may be due for a disappointment in the near future, for Maj.-Gen. Carter has recommended to the War Department that all extensions of tour be revoked and that no more be granted.

This action marks a distinct change in the general attitude of the army toward Hawaii. Heretofore Oahu was considered by those on the mainland as just one degree better than the Philippines, but a mighty good place to leave as soon as the tour was up.

When it was announced a year ago that the Oahu tour for officers would be four years there was a general chorus of protest, but when it was again reduced to three years, with the announcement that officers might apply for an additional stay of one year, there were many who made such application, and who were delighted when they received official word from Washington that their requests had been favorably acted upon.

It now looks as though Oahu was considered one of the choice stations of the army and that there will be competition for duty here. This is because a large part of the mobile army is doing duty on the Mexican border, under the most unfavorable and uncomfortable conditions, and because Oahu is infinitely preferable to the Philippines and the Canal Zone climatically.

It is quite likely that there will be a scramble for service here when officers become due for a foreign tour, and it is to promote a fair and square deal for all that Gen. Carter has taken the above noted action.

However, the latest order regarding the three-year tour here, received a week ago, states that officers in the Philippines and Hawaii may make application for a year's extension, and it is by no means certain whether Gen. Carter's recommendation will be adopted by the War Department, so there is still hope for the army officers who wish to become kamaisina.

Bryan's Second Instalment Says "Preparedness" is Provoker of War

Ex-Secretary Says Upheaval in Europe Result of False Philosophy—Praises Course of President Wilson—Would Not Get Ready For Threatened Conflict Over Issues Pending

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—Asserting that "preparedness" provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval of Europe is the result of the false philosophy that "might makes right," ex-Secretary Bryan today issued the second section of his statement on the causes of war and his cure for it. He submits arguments in today's statement against military preparation and praises the course of the president in international emergency.

Rumor From Belgium Inhabitants of Malines Revolted, Many Killed

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, Eng., June 17.—The Central News Agency publishes a despatch from Amsterdam saying that a traveller from Ghent brings the report of a revolt last Tuesday of the inhabitants of Malines, who are under German military government.

The German soldiers quelled the revolt by firing into the crowd, killing 700 civilians, says the story, which is unconfirmed. Since the occurrence, according to the traveller, Malines has been isolated by means of electrified wire fences.

THREAT TO KILL KOREANS BEING PROBED TODAY

Territorial Grand Jury Hears
Statement on Bitter Fight in National Association

The territorial grand jury is this afternoon making an investigation of the fight going on in the Korean National Association—a fight which has become so bitter that it has been charged that threats to kill 19 members of the association were openly made at a meeting recently held in this city.

The fight centers between adherents of the former officials of the association, and the supporters of those now in office. A local attorney is now preparing quo warranto proceedings against the new officials, and will endeavor to have them ousted from control by the courts.

The following statement of the fight, as seen by the "old" faction, was prepared at special request, and Deputy Attorney Brown said it would be presented to the grand jury this afternoon.

"On the evening of Saturday, June 5, 1915, in the main hall of the Korean National Association, a meeting was held called by a party of Korean calling themselves the democratic party, who were opposed to the officers of the Korean National Association elected January, 1915, at the regular yearly election.

"A man named Ahn Heun Young presided. He made a speech saying that the 23 men who had signed a letter protesting against the putting out of the old officers elected in January and the appointment of a new set of officers friendly to the so-called Korean Democratic party, was illegal, and against the law of the society, must be killed because they were interfering with the rights of the Koreans.

"He called on those in the audience, who wished them killed, to raise their hands and about one-half of the people present raised their hands—voting that they should be killed.

"Ko Suk Joe made an inflammatory speech stating, among other things, that they must begin killing the 23 men tomorrow. Sing Young Wiar made a speech in the course of which he said that all good Koreans should kill these 23 men as soon as they met them; that if they did not kill them, they would be sorry.

"Kim Kyung Woon said that Young Pak, because he embezzled some money, was a 'big thief' and so he escaped from these islands, and that those remaining were his followers and were 'little thieves' and, therefore, they should be killed. The audience

WANTS PROBE OF 'BREWERY SHARE' IN LIQUOR SHOPS

Anti-Saloon League Anxious to Expose Alleged Affiliation
With Local Retailers

The board of liquor license commissioners should demand from the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company a complete report setting forth the company's supposed affiliations with local saloons and wholesale and retail liquor establishments.

This, according to Superintendent John W. Wadman, is the contention of the Anti-Saloon League in its movement to protest against the renewal by the commission of the licenses of nine local saloons and liquor concerns. Doctor Wadman declares that the Anti-Saloon League is in possession of facts regarding the brewery's interest in certain retail liquor concerns which will make out a "clean-cut case" for the former.

RECALL OF SECRETARY CAUSE OF RESIGNATION

The recall of David Edward, secretary to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, was the direct cause of the resignation of five members of the commission, including its chairman, Hon. Alfred Deakin, who passed through Honolulu yesterday en route to Sydney in the Canadian Australian liner Niagara.

"When Minister of External Affairs Mahon directed that George Oughton be appointed to fill the vacancy the commission at San Francisco called a vigorous objection," said Mr. Deakin. "The commissioner insisted Oughton was not familiar with conditions or requirements or with the prior operations in connection with the Australian pavilion, and further that Oughton had not been in the public service and had not resided a dozen years in the commonwealth."

Minister Mahon refused to consider the objection. The commission members are said to have recommended the temporary appointment of M. Harris, a Victorian public servant, to the place vacated by Edward. This proposal was declined by Minister Mahon.
